

Size up this great opportunity!

Inventory Control Administrator,
East Tamaki

Love the retail industry but still looking for that right fit? Love clothes and think you have the right style to land an inventory control administration role? If you can walk the walk with inventory... then we want to talk the job talk with you!

Our international client is the bee's knees in children fashion and based in their gorgeous East Tamaki office is an enviable opening for one lucky administrator. They are currently shopping around for an Inventory Control Administrator to ensure efficient stock flow from Warehouse to their NZ and Australian stores. There is analysis of the stock, replenishments, manipulation of data and presenting reports and retail enquires to keep you on your toes in this varied and challenging position. You must be very comfortable playing around with Excel, ideally have retail and replenishment experience and love working in a dynamic environment that changes with the seasons.

If you are an adaptable and flexible team player who can work with accuracy and attention to detail in a busy role, then you could be the size we are looking for. It's an amazing office complete with gym, crèche, café and a whole bunch of colourful people to build strong working relationships with. It is also a fantastic company with real long term opportunities and a supportive and proactive culture.

So is it time to hang out the old job to dry and grab this new wardrobe of opportunities? Apply today!
