Looking for a new Oasis?

Technical Training and Implementation Manager, Dubai

Got a thirst for something different? Fancy taking your Automotive Refinisher skills and management experience and really seeing what the world can offer you? If you've got the hump with your current situation...then Micro Paint System wants you to hit the trail to Dubai! MPS is an international company with cutting edge of technology. The Micro Paint System has been developed as proprietary technology over the last ten years to offer a vastly superior permanent paint repair system to the automotive industry. Their expansion is now entering Dubai and they require a Technical Training Manager to lead this exciting trek.

You must have the relevant industry qualifications in the application of high quality Automotive paints combined with hands on skills and passion for the industry. This is also a leadership role, a relationship management position which will see you leading the development of the site in Dubai, training the trainers, building the business and representing this marketing leading company at the very highest of levels.

With awesome benefits, salary and career development...don't let your career be stranded high and dry a moment longer...Call Tara Jane on 0064 9 968 8478 or email your CV to tarajane@jobswithsalt.com
